Mark 10:15

And The Two Shall Become One: The Mathematics of Marriage

The first reading of this 27th Sunday in ordinary times makes the case for what marriage is all about, and how God intended it to be. “It is not good for the man to be alone.

I will make a suitable partner for him”, says the Lord. Notice that Eve was not taken from Adam’s feet, and so she was not created to be his slave. She was not taken from Adam’s head, and so she was not created to be his boss. She was taken from Adam’s side, and so she was created to be his partner. What joy Adam must have felt when he woke up and saw this fellow human. He knew, immediately, that: (a) they were created for each other, “This, at last, is the bone of my bone and the flesh of my flesh”—created to be companions, partners, friends, etc.; (b) that they were created different from each other, “This one shall be called ‘woman’”—difference in gender, gifts, talents, and abilities; and (c) that they were created to be given to each other, “And the two shall become one flesh—to share life, procreate, and find fulfilment in each other. Put all these together and we can see why Scriptures says, “Therefore, a man must leave father and mother and cleave to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh” [weave]. Leave, cleave, and weave—the secrets to marital success.

Leave—Scripture says that a couple’s first and foremost priority, over and above parents, children, siblings, career, and friends, is their relationship. Nothing comes before it or between it. So, the first consideration in every decision or action must be your spouse otherwise, that decision or action is, intrinsically, faulted and wrong. Yes, a couple will love and care for parents, children, and friends, but their marriage must be first and foremost.

Cleave or Cling—a couple must also cleave to each other. In the original text, the word, “cleave or cling” means “to adhere firmly, to be strongly attached, never to let go”. So, a couple should never allow anyone or anything to separate or divide them against themselves, and they must do so with a consistent, persistent, and unyielding spirit. I know that this is difficult to accept, especially where problems already exist, but this is the real deal. It is only when a couple can “leave and cleave” are they able to develop an appropriate relationship with others and the world.

Weave—beyond “leaving” and “cleaving”, a couple must also be “weaving”, for Scripture says, “And the two shall become one flesh”. This involves the joy of knowing and being known, of loving and being love, of sharing and being shared, and of giving and being given. For this to happen, a couple’s relationship, according to Ephesians 5:19ff, must be sacrificial—ready to lay down life for each other; sanctifying—doing whatever it takes to make each other the best he or she can be; satisfying—spicing it up and creating joyful memories for and with each other; sacramental—keeping God and Church at the center of things; forgiving—letting go of wrongs and hurts, with the full knowledge that you are not perfect either. There is no saint without a past and there is no sinner without a future.

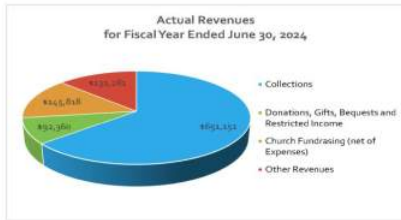

So, “Leaving, cleaving, and weaving” is the way God intended marriage to be. Yes, it is easier said than done, but it is the real “McCoy”. We must always remember that all things are possible for those who believe. I can, is not an emotion; it is a decision. We just need to know that holding unto hurts, not sacrificing for each other, not edifying each other, not creating joyful moments and memories, and keeping God by the wayside only serves to destroy a marriage and cause sadness for those in it. It is never too late to start all over and do it right.

ST. MICHAEL'S FEAST

The parish family of St. Michael's Church and the many volunteers of the Social Events Committee and its sub-committees namely G.I.F.T. (Grown in Faith) team, FAC (Family Activities Committee), Coffee and Fellowship Sunday Team would like to thank everyone who supported and participated in our events despite the challenges with the weather conditions.

We gratefully acknowledge the members of our choir and the adoration band for the many hours of preparation in putting together a beautiful musical concert for the church community.

A very special thank you to Rey and Jonelle Seide for the very tedious task of beautifully and elegant setting up the Phil Matrale Hall (LC) for the dinner and fellowship after the concert. Most importantly, for freely feeding everyone with a sumptuous dinner. On behalf of the church community, we immensely thank you for your selfless dedication and generosity!

As I recall our past weekend's events, I am overjoyed and I thank God for the outpouring of support and help from many volunteers who wholeheartedly offered their time and ensured the success to our events. From selling dinner/cruise tickets, giving out ice cream, helping kids get on the ride during the festival, serving at the dinner and many more ... no job is too small. Thank you, thank you!

Lastly to our CYO team and leaders, we thank you so much for all your assistance.

May God continue to shower you and your family with His blessings!

Msgr. Anselm I. Nwaorqu

MILLENNIALS WITH CHRIST (MWC)

MILLENNIALS WITH CHRIST (MWC) The second meeting was filled with great conversation, fun, and of course the Holy Spirit. Our discussion centered around what our spiritual walk with God might look like and the ways we sustain it. The main takeaway was that everyone's journey with Christ might look different, but we share the same purpose of growing and becoming more connected with God. Your spiritual walk may include some difficult moments, but know God is with you every step of the way. We invite parishioners from all cultures between the ages of 25-40 to grow in fellowship and faith with us. Millennials with Christ aims to encourage others to be soldiers for Christ in a way that resonates with our generation because we are trying to draw people within our age range into the Catholic Church since so many of our peers
